

Dear Applicant,

Thank you for your interest in the ISIS-Canada Training Programme in Expressive Arts Therapy.

Enclosed with this application is a brochure which contains information about the programme. If you intend to apply for admission, please complete and return this application by regular post with the required attachments, reference letters and $100.00 CAD application fee. References may be faxed or mailed separately, but the application will not be processed until all the required information has been received by the office. Please include a copy of your latest secondary/post secondary transcript or the highest certificate or diploma achieved. It is not necessary to forward transcripts from other educational institutions.

This is an ongoing application process, in which we interview applicants on a first-come-first-served basis, from February to the summer, until we have filled the first year class with suitable candidates. Candidates who meet the formal requirements for the programme will be given two separate interviews by faculty members. We are unfortunately unable to conduct interviews over the telephone. All interviews are conducted in person and in Toronto.

Successful candidates will be notified by mail following the second interview and given two weeks to send a written letter of acceptance along with a $500 deposit. Upon confirmation of acceptance and full deposit payment, a place will be held for the candidate to begin the programme in September.

Tuition fees are tax deductible. The costs of individual therapy, books on the core reading list, and a small yearly materials fee are separate from tuition costs and may be tax deductible. ISIS-Canada does not currently have a scholarship or bursary programme.

The ISIS-Canada website has current and useful information for prospective students: www.isis-canada.org. The online Student Handbook contains class schedules, a core reading list, student and financial policy, payment plans as well as links to affiliated institutions in the International Network of Expressive Arts Therapy Training Centres.

The ISIS office and Studio are not open to the public, unless we are hosting an event. Please call the office at (416) 539-9728 on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday between 10:30 AM and 5:30 PM if you require more information about the programme, financial assistance or would like a referral from our list of approved expressive arts therapists in private practice.

Sincerely Yours,

Pamela Rosales
